The inner circle of her 80-year-old circle, we are the Brownings and Emily Dickinson. The poetess was anything romantic or sad, though she enjoys a rhyme, and has asked that I not bring forgotten poems as well as making new ones that might appeal to her and I've visited many of her books.

In this special edition of Be Generous and Do Good, interviews, stories, and pieces written by large and small leaps, we merge the two into one single offering by the name of Dolphin Companions.

Both Communicare and Dolphin Companions share a mission to provide companionship to people in their homes. In 1982, the volunteer program at Communicare began with the idea of pairing a client with a volunteer. In 2001, they merged into one single offering by the name of Dolphin Companions.

How we got started:

When Mrs. S. moved to Philadelphia in 1950, she was planning to marry and start her family. Two years later, she found herself widowed with a three-year-old daughter. She had moved to Philadelphia so that her father could help her run the store he owned. Mrs. S.'s mother had died at childbirth from the lack of medical care. Mrs. S. lost her own mother in childbirth.

She was a mental health therapist and marriage counselor. When she retired, she wanted to give back to the community. She had been a dancer in her youth, and she became involved in dance. She is a dancer herself. When the golden days of the Automat, Lit Brothers, and Breyers ice cream when it was made here in Philadelphia, she paints me a vivid picture of the fair city.

They did plenty of exploring right here in our town. Her mother died at childbirth from the lack of medical care. Mrs. S.'s mother had died at childbirth from the lack of medical care. Mrs. S. lost her own mother in childbirth.
